The LETR International Conference has become the cornerstone for our movement's educational and motivational elements. It is the tool by which we educate the field which in return grows our programs. The conference is a rewarding experience, but does not come without dedication, hard work and the adherence to a rigorous schedule.

The International Conference Planning Committee (ICPC) is responsible for all logistical issues surrounding the conference as it pertains to planning, and implementation of that which is approved and budgeted by the Law Enforcement Torch Run Executive Council.
